

Integrated Health Dashboard , Integrated Health Facility Centers and Star Rating System of Hospitals should be used to provide quality healthcare - Chief Minister Devendra Fadnavis

Mumbai ,Suresh Dhere :

Three important initiatives of the Public Health Department, namely Integrated Health Dashboard, Integrated Health Facility Center and Star Rating System of Hospitals, were launched at the official residence ' Varsha ' in the presence of Chief Minister DevendraFadnavis .

Health information in the state should not only be collected but also used for public benefit. Chief Minister DevendraFadnavis said that the department should work to provide better quality health services to the citizens by implementing these initiatives effectively.On this occasion, Public Health Minister PrakashAbitkar , Minister of State for Public Health MeghnaSakoreBordikar , Chief Secretary Rajesh Agarwal , Additional Chief Secretary of Revenue DepartmentVikasKharge , Additional Chief Secretary to the Chief Minister Lokesh Chandra , Principal Secretary Dr. ShrikarPardeshi , Secretary of Health Department E. Ravindran along with senior officials were present.Chief Minister Fadnavis praised the technology-based and citizen-centric initiatives of the Public Health Department.

Integrated dashboard for data-driven decisions

Currently, more than 40 separate portals are operational for various programs of the Public Health Department. An integrated health dashboard has been developed to consolidate important information from these portals and make it available on a single platform. State-wise and district-wise analysis of key indicators related to programs such as maternal and child health, tuberculosis control , screening for non-communicable diseases can be done on this dashboard. This will make it easier to identify health challenges promptly, evaluate district-wise performance and take effective measures where necessary. Administrative decisions will be made more accurate and faster by converting health information into actionable data. Integrated Health Facility Center for direct interaction with citizens

The '104' call center has been streamlined through the Integrated Health Facility Center . Along with calls from citizens, contact calls made by the health department will also be planned from this center. Along with following up on high-risk pregnant mothers , postpartum mothers , tuberculosis patients and citizens related to non-communicable diseases, citizens' feedback on hospital services will be sought. This center has a system to handle about one thousand calls daily and trained operators will be working for it. A system has also been developed to immediately inform the concerned district level officers about serious or urgent cases.

Star rating for improving the quality of health institutions

A star rating system has been launched to standardize and improve the quality of services available in government hospitals in the state. Health institutions will be evaluated on various criteria such as availability of special services, presence of medical officers and staff , supply of medicines , laboratory services , outpatient and inpatient services , number of deliveries and surgeries , cleanliness , usefulness of facilities and patient feedback. With this system, citizens will get comprehensive information about the services available in hospitals from their homes. Moreover, in this system, arrangements have been made to take immediate action at the district level on the information received from citizens as required and then contact the citizens to ensure that the service has been received. Therefore, the focus will be on whether the service was provided as well as whether the service was received.

Kolhapur pilot project for Maha Pulse AI

Kolhapur has been selected for the pilot project for Maha Pulse AI, which will make the health system here smart. This pilot project is being implemented by adding artificial intelligence to the public health system in Kolhapur district. It was informed on this occasion that this initiative to connect 104 government health institutions and 12 talukas in the district with an integrated digital system will make monitoring of health services, management of available resources and follow-up of services provided to citizens more effective. Principal Secretary, Health Department, NipunVinayak, gave a presentation on the objectives, methodology and expected outcomes of the major initiatives of the Health Department under ' Mission Arogyaam' . It was said that these initiatives will be important in making the public health system more efficient , responsive and citizen-oriented.

Setback for Centre on OBC Creamy Layer, Supreme Court Refuses to Stay Earlier Order

New Delhi, Ajay Upadhyay :

The Central Government has suffered a setback in the OBC creamy layer reservation matter, as the Supreme Court has refused to grant any interim relief to the Centre for the time being.

The Supreme Court heard the Central Government's clarification plea regarding the OBC creamy layer criteria and declined to put its earlier order on hold. The Centre had sought clarification regarding the implementation and implications of the previous order.

The apex court has directed all concerned parties to file their responses by September 17, 2026. The matter will be taken up for further hearing thereafter.

Until then, the Supreme Court has made it clear that there will be no interim stay on its earlier order, meaning the Centre will not receive immediate relief in the matter.

The case concerning the criteria for determining the OBC creamy layer and its impact on reservation policy continues to remain under consideration before the Supreme Court.
